Jayne Gilmore, of Stratfield, was named Campus Sweetheart for 1949 at UB's annual Sweetheart Ball in the Stratfield Hotel Saturday night.

Evening School Jumps in Size, Kendall Reports

Mr. Harry A. Kendall, director of the Evening Division, has announced that 1,050 students are enrolled in the Evening College. In addition to this number there are 400 day students who have night classes. Three hundred of this total are new students. Veterans comprise about 50 per cent of the total number, and 60 per cent of those in attendance are studying for either a degree or an award.

New courses added to the evening curriculum include History of Connecticut, taught by Dr. Carlyle Hoyt, superintendent of schools in Fairfield; Community Resources, Mr. Elwood Street, Executive Director of the Bridgeport Stratford Community Chest Council; and Methods Time Management, Mr. Carrol Eaton of Remington Arms.

Visual Aids Courses

Mr. S. Shelburne Stamper, Visual Aids director, will teach a course in the Preparation and Use of Audio-Visual Aids, and one in the Administration of Audio-Visual Aids Program.

Mr. Kendall also announced the addition of a new adviser, Mr. Ernest Sapelli, to the Evening Advisory Council to help those interested in Industrial Management. Mr. Sapelli, a full time staff member, will be in his office on the Fairfield campus on Thursday evenings from 6:00 to 9:30 p.m. Other evening advisers include Dr. Falk, Mr. Wechter, Mr. Sherry, and Mr. Ozer.

Check for Room Assignments

All room assignments given last semester are now void. New assignment of rooms will not be possible until the week of Feb. 21. Temporary use of a room may still be had by calling Mr. Petitjean's office, 4-8230.

As Campus Sweetheart, Miss Gilmore received a gold handbag, a corsage of white orchids, and a crown of red and white roses.

Miss Gilmore, named Snowball Queen a week ago, was chosen from a group of six coeds nominated by the students. The five other candidates were Gerry Wilkins and Theresa Brannelly, of Bridgeport; Kathryn DeWitt of Fairfield; Betty Dolan and Joan Dudeck of Springfield, Mass.

The voting took place last week on both Fairfield and Seaside campuses, and ended Friday evening. The candidates were nominated by ballots sent by mail to various students who were chosen at random.

Poor Returns

Miss Mary Clarke, director of UB's Social Activities Committee, said that out of a total of 1,500 ballots mailed to students, only 145 were returned to her office with nominations for the title of Campus Sweetheart.

Al Selects Cast For Production

Miss Nancy Fray and Frank Driscoll will co-star in "Craig's Wife" to be presented at the Klein Auditorium March 5. Mr. Albert Dickason, director of Campus Productions, announced this week.

Though a new-comer to the University stage, Miss Fray has had stage experience both at Boston College and at Vermont Junior College. Frank Driscoll has appeared in such UB productions as "The Flattering Word," "Campus Thunder," the Christmas pageant, and the Wistarian pageant of 1948.

Other's Named

Other parts in George Kelly Pulitzer Prize winning drama will be played by Lois McMellon, Mary Pirrello, Merilu Elliot, Patricia Kelly, Harriet Olanoff, Robert Stephen, Boris Moskalenko, Ulrich von Ziegesar and John Sheehan.

Referendum To Be Held March—On Activity Coupons

The student referendum on the proposed student activity coupon books, the idea of which was outlined in as much detail as is currently available in the preceding issue of The Scribe, will be held March, John J. Cox, president of the Student Council announced this week.

Three student groups, the Student Council, their advisory committee, and the Campus Commission, are currently pooling their efforts in an attempt to obtain a plan for the season tickets that will meet the approval of the majority of students.

The plan they decide to offer will be outlined in detail in this paper as well as in a small booklet the committee is preparing to acquaint UB students with the plan and to interest them to ballot in favor of it.

Versatility Citation to Be Awarded

Forty-three individuals, organizations, business firms, and industries from downtown Bridgeport have contributed $1,125 for the establishment of the Horace B. Merwin award to be given annually to a graduating senior in the College of Business Administration who has "demonstrated qualities of leadership in University activities, has maintained good academic standing, and has evidenced high ethical standards."

The award is an outgrowth of the Horace B. Merwin Memorial Fund established last summer when Mrs. Merwin requested that friends, instead of sending flowers at the time of Mr. Merwin's death, establish a memorial fund in his honor. The late Mr. Merwin was a trustee of the University for many years and was treasurer of the current Development Fund program.

Faculty to Select

The Merwin award committee will be appointed from the faculty of the College of Business Administration which will select from that college the recipient of the award from a list of candidates who have been on the honor list for the preceding two semesters and have participated in extra curricular activities.

The funds made available by the friends of the late Mr. Merwin will be invested in trust at the Bridgeport-City Trust company and the annual income of this investment (Continued on Page 4)

Knepler to Teach Race Relations

A course in race relations at the University of Bridgeport to be taught by Dr. A. E. Knepler, assistant professor of psychology and coordinator of the Interracial Institute held last Spring, has been announced for the Spring semester. The course will deal with psychological, economic, and sociological backgrounds of prejudice.

Discriminatory community practices, methods of coping with prejudices, intercultural education, action techniques, and social control will be the core of course work.

Classes will begin on Tuesday, March 8.

Trustees Extend Welcome To First Sectarian Club

Official permission for the establishment of the first campus sectarian club came the final week of the fall semester as president James H. Halsey appeared before 75 members of the recently organized Newman Club to officially greet them on behalf of the faculty and administration.

"It is indeed heartening and gratifying to us (the UB faculty and administration) to see such a large group of our students banding together for sectarian religious discussion which the University itself does not provide," President Halsey told the Newman Club members.

A Trustee Decision

"The University," he said, "is not anti or non-religious in nature. It is, however, non-sectarian and therefore cannot at this time directly sponsor a student sectarian organization. But we do want the Newman Club to feel itself part of the University in all of its private and independent activities."

The President's official greeting was the result of a Special Trustee Committee meeting on December 22, 1948 which voted unanimously to recommend to the Executive Committee that the University provide meeting space to recognized sectarian clubs on the same basis as to other student organizations.

Temporary officers of the new Catholic club are Victor Mangini, president; George Metzger, vice-president; Frances Werner, secretary; Dave Wicklund, corresponding secretary; and Muriel Veckerelli, treasurer. Father McGough of the Sacred Heart parish is club chaplain, and Mr. Max Werminghaus, UB math instructor, is the club adviser. The Newman Club meets the first and third Tuesday of each month in the Sacred Heart Church Hall.

Part Time Faculty Guests At Dinner

Part time instructors at the University will attend a special dinner meeting this Friday evening from 6:00 to 8:00 p.m. at the Hitching Post Inn.

This dinner has been arranged so as to provide an opportunity for instructors, deans and department heads to become better acquainted.

President Halsey, Dean Ropp, and Mr. Kendall will speak.

The New UB Engineering Building . . .

will provide additional facilities of the students of the Division of Engineering. This architect's conception will become a reality beginning in March when ground is broken for the new building at Park place and Myrtle avenue.

SHORTCUT TO EDUCATION?

In an oral reply to the student, who, in the last issue of The Scribe, charged that History 48F was an unbearable course because of the overabundance of homework, a spokesman for the History department confessed that it certainly must take more than twenty minutes a day (two hours a week) for the average student to thoroughly scrutinize either the New York Times or the New York Herald Tribune. But he hastened to add that the average student who wishes to maintain an average grade in this one credit course need not read the entire paper every day!

Therein lies the clue to passing History 48F.

"The average student needs only to read the headlines and the first three or four paragraphs of the major news stories to pass the course," the spokesman told this reporter. "This much can easily be accomplished in less than twenty minutes a day," he commented.

To this your reporter retorts: Does the average student, after completing the fall semester of History 48F, know what caused President Chiang Kai-shek to flee China, why England demanded a change in Berlin currency, upon what foundation the Bishops of Czechoslovakia charged that "in spite of promises of religious liberty . . . an attack has been launched on the Church . . . ?" Or did the average student simply take recognition of these facts and memorize their existence for the weekly tests?

What is education in the true definition of the word? Is it merely the memorization of facts; or is it the ability to discuss the trends and/or the explanations leading up to the facts. Certainly all will agree that the latter answer is the more correct.

Why is it then that the History department seemingly advises their students to "get the important information, learn the facts . . . and if you don't have time to get the reasons or the explanations for them, ignore them." Such advice is directly opposed to the basic principles of a true Liberal Arts education. It certainly should not be encouraged.

It certainly should not be encouraged; rather, complete mastery the aim.

ANOTHER STEP FORWARD

Another step in The Scribe expansion program launched when the Junior College of Connecticut became the University of Bridgeport in 1948 becomes a reality with this issue.

If you haven't noticed, there's six pages this issue—not the usual four we've been forced to publish since September when The Scribe became a weekly. And that's what it'll be for the rest of the semester—if the staff maintains the pace—a six page weekly at no extra cost to any of our readers.

As they have every right to be, the staff is extremely proud of their new paper. But they also remain humble, because they realize more than anyone else that the shortcomings of their paper are still many, varied and great. But this situation, these shortcomings and errors are not the fault of the students who are at present on the staff.

The faults occur where a GAP in our systems exists—where the present staff members simply can't get around to doing this or that extra chore. Wherever you spot an omission or an error in The Scribe that is where another staff member is needed . . . and badly!

Look over your class schedule—join the paper if you possibly can Help the present staff members to keep moving forward toward publishing a bigger and better Scribe.

Question:

What are your views concerning a Student Activities fee which would add fifteen dollars a year to the present tuition fee and would entitle you to admittance at all of the football and basketball games, the regular school dances, Campus Thunder, and a copy of the yearbook?

Answers:

Nan Zeising, Liberal Arts: "The Student Activities ticket is a grand idea. It would certainly increase the attendance to the various school functions. On the other hand, I don't think the buying of the ticket should be compulsory. Many people don't enjoy all of the events the tickets cover and it should be up to them whether or not they care to attend all functions."

Bud Harris, Liberal Arts: "The idea is a fine one if for no other reason than the fact that it will increase the number of people going to the various functions. A school needs student support to get along and this system would provide the support which is lacking at all sports events as well as socials."

Kathy Phinney, Liberal Arts: I think that the school spirit here is almost completely lacking. If there were student activities tickets everyone would have a ticket to the activities. Consequently there would be a larger attendance. Many of the students are short of money and cannot afford to pay admission to the activities. Finally, it would benefit the school as well as the students.

Robert Hostage, Liberal Arts: Perhaps if the hitherto lethargic student body were automatically involved in all activities, support and attendance might be bolstered. But, I doubt it.

Steve Kordiak, Engineering: Considered from a purely financial viewpoint a student activities ticket is terrific. Veterans would get the ticket through the G. I. Bill and non-veterans would be receiving thirty dollars worth of entertainment for fifteen dollars. It would also increase the attendance at the various functions which I think is badly needed.

Ray Hansen, Pre-Dental: The majority of the students would not have the time to put in on all the activities covered by the ticket. The benefit begins only after the fifteen dollars mark has been reached. It is the time factor, not the money factor, that limits the activities of the average student. The mere supplying of tickets does not alter the fact that the time for the activities would still be lacking.

Stan Ramik, Pre-Dental: The Student Activities ticket is the biggest bargain that can be sold the students of this campus. With this ticket, students can plan ahead and find the necessary time to attend social functions. Everyone will benefit by it. With the purchase of this ticket, students will not have to budget their weekly allowances for college activities. Financial embarrassment will be out at this school. Veterans, for the first time, will be able to attend and enjoy worry of "cash on the line."

Basketball Attendance Urged

To the Editor of The Scribe:

In my estimation our University is probably the world's worst in school spirit.

To give a prime example, the attendance of UB students at their own basketball games is terrible.

Maybe it's the high price of admission which is keeping them away. Or perhaps it's that the students just don't care they should hang their heads in shame—but low!

Nobody expects you to turn out at every game but out of an enrollment of approximately 1800 I think at least 500 should attend each home game. Our University has a good team, but they have had some tough breaks. A little school support in back of them might be the spark plug that's been missing in the engine.

Now how about it? Get out to see those basketball games and support your team.

A Freshman Speaks Back

To the Editor of The Scribe:

I am a first-year student at this University of Bridgeport, a veteran and, like many of my fellow freshmen, married. We sincerely believe that we are serious minded adults intent upon securing a better education I say

"we" because I have spoken to many of my brother veterans and have been asked by them to communicate with you.

Now to get down to business! We have little or no time for campus frivolities. We promise you revolt if we are asked to observe your childish custom of wearing those ridiculous beanies. We rather relish the fact that we will be required to wear them and tip them to upperclassmen. In the pig's eye, we do! We tip our caps to no one!

I trust this does not give a wrong impression of us. Certainly we are school-minded and if asked to lend our support to some worth-while effort, we will be more than glad to do our share. As a matter of fact we wish that you would call on us and give us a chance to prove that statement. We have served well before and we can do so again. Any constructive task will be assailed with a will and in this we will welcome your experienced guidance and criticism. But, please, please, don't bother us with any of your ridiculous schemes.

This certainly is a very fair and unbiased summary of the arguments against the plan and has made a very good case for the plan. The summary paragraph in which he indicates that the decision

Matson Is Named Business Manager By Scribe Board

Everett J. Matson, a junior in the College of Business Administration, became business manager of the Scribe as a result of a Scribe Advisory Board meeting held during the final week of the fall semester. He succeeds Raymond J. Folkman, who withdrew from day school at that time.

Matson has been associated with The Scribe since January, 1948 when he joined as a feature writer. During the past semester he served as The Scribe accountant in addition to writing several articles for the paper.

Promoted to fill the accountant's position was William Giles, who has been advertising manager of the paper since the start of the fall semester.

Both Well Liked

Both Matson and Giles were highly recommended for the promotions by Ray Folkman, and both were unanimously accepted by the three other members of The Scribe Advisory Board.—Professor Wendell Kellogg, The Scribe Adviser; James Dlugos, editor; and James Gaffney, who is the representative of the Student Council.

As a result of his promotion, Matson will assume complete responsibility and authority for all business activities of the paper as well as being elevated to a position on the Advisory Board. His new position pays a $10 per issue salary. As the accountant, Giles will draw one half that amount each issue.

He's Been Around

The new business manager has been extremely active in student activities during his three years at UB. As a sophomore he was chairman of the All-College Social Activities Committee and managing editor of the 1948 Wistarian. During the past summer he edited the Student Handbook and served as Publicity chairman for the Football Steering Committee. At the present time Matson is a member of the Standing Snack Bar Improvement Committee, treasurer of Theta Sigma fraternity and business manager for the Office of Campus Productions, and treasurer of the Junior Class.

In May, 1948 he received a Scribe Citation for "being the student contributing most to the social life of the campus community."

New Dorm to Open Other Offices Move To Marina Campus

Administrative and office quarters have made a triple switch with the opening of Stratford Hall, new dormitory, and Howland Hall on Park avenue. The offices of the Records, Admissions, and Bursars are now located on the first floor of Howland Hall; the business manager, student personnel offices, social activities room, and the office of the business adviser are on the second floor. The third floor is occupied by offices of the educational and vocational adviser, student counsellor, student activities, student government conference room and workroom, and the American Society for the Advancement of the Shmoo. A faculty and staff lounge will soon be made available for the convenience of the occupants. Stratford Hall houses twenty-nine students and Mr. and Mrs. S. Shelburne Stamper are the proctors.

Other Offices

Simonds House now provides students with reading, lounge and smoking rooms on the first floor. The offices of the College of Business Administration are on the second and third floors. The sculpturing studio is concentrated in the basement quarters. Mr. Fred A.

Chris, Danny Leave UB, Trade Books For Job

Two well known UB students, Chris "Old Man of the Constitution" Parrs and Dan "Campus Commissioner" Greaney, are among the many students who did not return for the spring term.

Parrs, who someday hopes to return here to finish his education, has turned to selling as an occupation, "because I feel that it will provide me with a good income as well as with plenty of time for relaxation." He told The Scribe that his desire for a brief rest—"to get away from all my scholastic requirements and the many burdens of my extra-curricular activities"—was the main reason for his withdrawal from college.

Regional Chairman

As Southern New England Regional Chairman of the National Student Association, Parrs has been over his neck in administrative organizational problems since the start of the fall semester. It was not uncommon for him to make two or three trips a month to various colleges in New England to aid them in establishing NSA activities on their campuses. During the Christmas vacation he traveled to Chicago to attend a NSA National Executive Committee conference.

Chris earned the title "Old Man of the Constitution" by serving long and diligently as chairman of UB Student Government Association Constitution Committee which was the forerunner to the Student Council.

During the past semester he has been an active member of the Student Council, All-University Social Activities Committee, Inter-Fraternity Council, Gridiron Week Committee and the Student Building Fund Committee. He is a member of Sigma Phi Alpha.

Scribe Citation Winner

In May of 1948 Chris was the recipient of a "Scribe Citation" for "his untiring efforts in promoting cooperation and better student-faculty relations in civic affairs."

Dan Greaney, who has popped up here and there in various student activities, during his three years at UB became "Campus Commissioner" this fall when he was elected Chairman of the NSA Campus Commission. He also served on the Student Government Constitution and the Gridiron Week Committee. He is a member of Theta Sigma. During the fall semester he served as Chairman of Athletic Award Committee and played an important role in Campus Thunder, 1948 Edi-

P. T. Barnum Honored At Convocation

"A Master of Destiny" was the topic of President James H. Halsey's address at the convocation assembly last Wednesday afternoon in the Klein Memorial Auditorium.

"P. T. Barnum is practically unknown in his hometown, Bridgeport," the President said, adding, "Bridgeporters now discussing a Barnum Day should read his autobiography and find out for themselves what sort of man was this forebear of Bridgeport's greatness."

Developments Mentioned

Dr. Henry W. Littlefield, vice president, summarized recent developments at the institution, including plans for the School of Nursing, the new engineering building, Weylister school secretarial equipment, the proposed Fones School of Dental Hygiene, a cooperative work program, the new Division of Education, and use of the Reading Laboratory, new accreditations received by the University, and progress of the move to Seaside campus. An introduction of the deans and heads of departments followed his address.

The invocation was given by the Rev. John F. McGough of the Church of the Sacred Heart of Jesus; the scripture reading was by the Rev. Edward McLane of United Congregational Church, and the benediction by Rabbi Moses Malinowitz of the Congregational Ahavath Achim.

Arden Whitacre, organ instructor of the Department of Music, provided the music for the program.

Nurses, Lawyers, Profs, May Train at UB

UB has received approval of its four-year programs from three accrediting bodies. The State Department of Education approved UB as a teacher-training institution and the University has set up a Department of Education Courses to prepare teachers at the secondary school level and an in-service teachers training program, for both elementary and secondary school teachers, have been instituted.

Dr. Harry A. Becker is acting chairman of the department with Associate Professor Gladys L. Persons; Assistant Professors A. E. Knepler and Anita Riess; and instructors Floyd I. Brewer, Donald W. Kern, and S. Shelburne Stamper.

Law, Nursing, Approved

The Connecticut Bar Examining committee has approved the Colleges of Arts and Science and Business Administration for four-year pre-law programs, enabling those who wish to complete their bachelor's work in law training program at Bridgeport to do so and qualify for admission to advanced studies. The State Board of Nurse Examiners also gave its approval to U.B.'s College of Nursing.

Sociology Colloquium members were guests at a dinner meeting recently at the Carpatho-Russian Center. Dinner was prepared and served by the Mother's Club of the church. The Rev. Joseph Simko spoke to the members of the club on the kind of people making up a parish, their customs, traditions, and their problems of assimilation. He explained the difference between the symbolisms of the Eastern and Western Churches and took the group on a tour through the church during which he showed them samples of old Slavonic manuscripts.

A race relations course opened at the University this semester with Dr. A. E. Knepler as instructor. The course deals with psychological, economic, and sociological backgrounds of prejudice and offers three semester hours of credit. The new course will serve as a lecture and workshop period in conjunction with the University-sponsored Institute on Race Relations which begins March 8.

Another Evening Division class opened this semester is one in community resources taught by Mr. Elwood Street, executive director of the Bridgeport - Stratford Community Chest. This course offers a general view of the various fields of social service, methods used and agencies at work in the greater Bridgeport area.

The Music Department will present an organ recital by Mr. Arden Whitacre, instructor of music, on Sunday afternoon Feb. 20 at 4 p.m. at the First Methodist Church, Harrison and Golden Hill Streets.

Members of the faculty, students, and their friends are cordially invited to attend this recital which premieres a tour through the Eastern States, Texas, and Indiana.

Miss Carolyn V. Buck, assistant instructor in art, will exhibit her works in Peacock Alley at the D. M. Read department store Feb. 15-26. The exhibit will include pen and ink sketches, charcoal and pastel compositions, oil paintings, hand woven textile designs, and jewelry. Some of the compositions will include scenes around the University.

Brothers of Alpha Gamma Phi last week elected a new slate of officers: Robert Ball succeeds Henry Kornacki as president; Edward DeWitt is vice-president; Mario Racassi, secretary; Peter Steverango, treasurer; and Charles Torrey, historian.

Dr. A. E. Knepler, assistant professor of social science, began a series of lectures last week with a lecture and demonstration Friday on "Hypnosis Cure or Fraud" at the Y.W.C.A. and an illustrated lecture on "Rumor and Race Prejudice" Sunday at a meeting of the United Jewish Cultural Society.

Dr. Knepler will also serve as moderator for the first session of the city-wide Civil Rights Conference to be held February 28 and March 1 at the Jewish Community Center. A number of University faculty members will participate as panel leaders on the second evening of the conference.

Freshman Engineering Students. Attention! The Cooperative Work Study program will be defined at a special meeting next Wednesday, Feb. 23, at p.m. in the Old Library on the Fairfield Avenue campus. Mr. Anthony Jevanjan, coordinator of the program and Mr. John Bodnar, acting director of the Engineering Department will preside.

Dr. Francis E. Dolan, director of admissions, and Elaine August participated in a panel discussion on the Forum Theater sponsored by the Bridgeport Inter-Group Council over station WLIZ on Sundays. The program was the sixth in a series of thirteen weekly broadcasts and dealt with racial discrimination in schools.

Dr. Joseph S. Roucek, chairman of the department of sociology, will be the first speaker in a series of public lectures at the Institute of Human Relations to be given in Waterbury during February and March under the sponsorship of the Connecticut Inter-racial Commission, The University of Connecticut, and a committee of Waterbury organizations and individuals.

Readers of blank verse and lyric poetry may obtain "The Poet's Pen", a publication of the Bridgeport Poetry Workshop, at the Book store.

Representing the University on the staff of the publication are Charles J. Jacobs whose poem "Pater Noster" appeared recently in the New York Herald-Tribune, and Mary L. Shawah, publicity chairman of the Workshop.

Mr. Kenneth Hampson, assistant professor of management, who left at the end of last semester to become executive placement director of the Lucas Personnel Service in New York, was presented a gold watch by the student chapter of the Society for the Advancement of Management at a testimonial dinner in his honor at the Fairway Restaurant last month.

Make-up examinations for finals and tests missed last semester will be conducted Feb. 26. Applications for make-ups must be made with the Student Personnel Office no later than Feb. 22 and only students with absences excused by this office or the nurse will be acceptable for a make-up.

The Engineer's club will show two films on Wednesday, February 23, at 2:15 p.m. in room A-205. The films are entitled "The Making and Shaping of Steel," and "The History of the Helicopter." Everyone is invited to attend.

The Debating club will hold an organizational meeting Wednesday, February 23 at 3:30 p.m. at Fones Hall. All students who are interested in debating are invited to attend. It was announced by Mr. William S. Banks, instructor in speech, who will act as faculty advisor for the club.

Western Union has installed a direct telephone line from Fones Hall to the Bridgeport Western Union telegraph office. The line is located next to the phone booth in the cellar of Fones Hall and telegraph blanks have been placed in all buildings and dormitories.

There is only one error that I can detect and that is that we did not definitely say that a two-thirds vote would make the decision. You may recall that we thought it might be better to see what the results were and then let the Student Council and the administration decide the results on the basis of that.

However, I do want to say once again, congratulations on a fine job of reporting a meeting.

Explained by Halsey

In a recent letter to all the donors to this fund, President James H. Halsey said, "It has been our desire to set up this award in a manner which Mr. Merwin himself would have chosen; and you will note that all-around versatility rather than narrow scholastic achievement is the basis of the award. Thus we feel that the student selected will exhibit those traits and characteristics which were epitomized by Mr. Merwin."

University Chapter of SAM Receives National Charter

"The Society for the Advancement of Management aims to promote understanding of the social, psychological, and economic implications of the scientific principles of modern management, to develop individual and collective social responsibility on the part of students and management and to encourage study and research in the application of principles and methods of management to all fields of human endeavor."

The University of Bridgeport student chapter of this Society has received its national charter with the names of fifty charter members engraved upon it. The University takes pride in the official acknowledgment received from Ralph L. Jacobs, New York vice-president of the S. A. M. in charge of student chapters.

Business Majors

Membership is limited to the sophomore, junior, senior and evening school classes majoring in administration, production, finance, distribution, or management fields.

Officers of the chapter are Ernest C. Godreau, president; William W. Edwards, vice-president; Charles N. Stern, secretary; Eric B. Erickson, treasurer; Julius Ivanko, historian.

Park Hall, Kappa Beta Rho Lead IM Loops

rolled to an easy victory over the UB basketball squad in an exhibition game Feb. 4 in the Knights of Columbus hall. The visitors, paraplegic veterans, put on a fancy display as they mounted up 38 points to the 21 points marked up for the local boys, who also played from wheelchairs. Coach Jim Amen is seen above giving instructions to his starting line-up (l. to r.) Van Brooks, Harry Schweidert, Marty Pysz, Robert Remedy and Louis Angelora.

CLINT'S CORNER

By C. J. HOYSRADT

Because some readers respect originality, and because a metropolitan New York sports scribe entitles his column in My Opinion, I bow to respect and precedence and change the title of this column.

This reporter would like to thank such basketball fans as Dean C. D. L. Ropp and Mrs. Ropp, Commander and Mrs. Fred Daly, Mr. and Mrs. John Shalvoy, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mayhew, Anita Colby and Mary Dorn, and the handful of other steady patrons of the UB team. Out of the busy work-packed week of these people, they find time to support the UB team with their attendance, applause and respect.

Why can't UB basketball games draw a crowd of more than 50 or 100 fans? After questioning many people at games, in the Snack Bars, in class rooms and lounges, it was found that there are many good reasons for poor attendance but there were three reasons most obvious by repetition and inference.

One of the main reasons for poor attendance at the UB basketball games is that the UB student will not or cannot pay eighty cents to see UB play when they can watch Dick Holub and Mickey Homa battle it out in a professional game for a buck twenty.

Coupled with the cry for better games for less money is the fact that some UB students are big-shots. They are pseudo-sports interpreters. They memorize the scoring average of Ralph Beard or George Mikin, but the name Cy Daly is entirely foreign to the same college basketball fan. It seems we here at UB are too near the city to appreciate our local stars. For three dollars, the UB basketball fan can hop a train to New York and see the finest basketball games in the country.

There is a third and very obvious reason—but it cannot be printed in this column. Maybe there is a fourth reason. Drop this reporter a letter telling me what you think is wrong with the team. It's your team. The college will listen closely to all suggestions concerning the welfare of UB basketball. Write it, damn it—you are thinking it!!!

It looks like the Purple Knights of Seaside will have an entirely new football team next fall. It seems some of the boys thought that the University would "take it easy" on the football player. Need you fellows be reminded that last year UB was boasting ten straight wins in collegiate cage competition, but, along came the probation list, and away went the basketball team. There was no pussy-footing or lally-gagging around for the talented sport luminary. Remember, we are all here primarily for an education. Joe Blow will not get a better job if his football team was successful. He must have the marks, and what good are the marks if the standards have been prostituted for the sake of a football player.

Everybody's Out of Step but John Those persons concerned with the UB-Fairfield game all agree

Help! Gal Sports Cry

In their first season of organized ball, UB female hoopsters have run up against a winless jinx. Playing against the Bridgeport Hospital nurses in the first game for both teams, Mary Pizzi, shooting star for the nurses, sank a last minute layup providing the winning margin 25-24. Miss Pizzi was the nurses high individual scorer with 17 points. UB's Phoebe Warshaw hit the nets for four field goals and two foul shots for a ten point total.

St. Vincents Triumphs

Completely unnerved by the smooth zone defense of the St. Vincent's nurses, Margery Osterhaudt's UB team left the floor at half time of their second game trailing 10-1. Coming back strong during the second half, the girls started hitting with long set-shots but were still led by five points when time ran out. Toni Salvucci of UB was high scorer in an 18 to 13 game.

In their third tilt against the YWCA Shooting Stars, the UB lassies completely checked the Y team for the first half, but in the second half Westlake and Comacho of the Y found the baskets with long set-shots ending the game with UB, absorbing a 43 to 19 drubbing. Jeanne Klose of Bridgeport was high scorer with eight points.

Coming Games

Summary of the three games finds Toni Salvucci with seven field goals and two fouls for the total of 16 points, making her the teams high scorer.

The next two games are with General Electric on Feb. 21, and Sterling House on Feb. 23. Both games will be played at the YWCA on Golden Hill Street.

that the officiating left much to be desired. But the epitome of the thing was the expulsion of Co-captain Cy Daly on five fouls. In the many years of playing basketball in high school, Marine Corp and college, Cy Daly has never been expelled from a game with five fouls. Don't make it so obvious the next time boys. Your time comes every Boy Scout week.

Hopes High, New Men On UB Varsity

Five of the next seven UB basketball games will be played on UB home courts. Until the ending of the current basketball season March 4th, only two games will be played away. Both away frays are close by, one in Milford, and the other in Stamford.

To help in the round-up of the 1948-49 season, the Purple Knights' team is dotted with the faces of new and comparatively experienced players. Topping the list of new comers is 6'4" giant, Larry Griffin. Larry recently transferred from the University of Connecticut where he was a member of its basketball team. When Larry attended Stratford high school he worked under Tom Andrews and Jim Penders, and in 1946, the Stratford team, led by Griffin, won an invitation to the Class A Tournament in New Haven. Griffin looks heavy and rough around the backboard, and has an accurate one-hand set shot from the corner that is potent.

Potential First Stringers

Ed Friedman, 6 foot plus football scholarship player from Arkansas State is also among the team's new potential first-stringers. Pete Lazar, former Harding courtman and stablemate of Charley Kozulko, looks shifty and fast although his shooting was erratic in the St. Basil's game.

Presently the Purple Knights of UB have not had too impressive a season and now have ten losses in fifteen games.

Fred (CY) Daly is still high-scorer of the college quintet averaging 18.3 per game for twelve games. The team's second highest scorer, Frank Castelucci, was declared ineligible along with Frank Doca, and Tim Ramik and left the team via the probation list route.

Total of points accumulated by UB first string includes:

	G	F	Ttl.
Daly	91	37	219
Castelucci	34	11	79
Dietrich	28	16	72
Kozulko	32	14	68
Barron (2 games)....	7	4	18

Close Races Still Evident

This week Intra-mural basketball and bowling leagues resumed activity following the two weeks lay-off for exams.

Park Hall and the Parkwoods are deadlocked with identical 3-0 records in the dormitory hoop circuit. Waldemere and Mrs. Keeler's Five are tied for third, one-game behind the leaders. The remaining three clubs, the Giants, Norwalk Hot Rods, and West Hall, in the reduced seven team league, trail the field.

Kappa Beta Rho and Theta Sigma continue unbeaten in the fraternity league the former boasting a 3-0 record, one win more than TS. Sigma Phi Alpha, Delta Epsilon Beta, and Alpha Gamma Phi are in a three-way tie for the show spot, with the Faculty, Schemers, Seasiders, and Alpha Delta Omega rounding out the remainder of the nine-club loop.

High Scorers

Leading scorers in the "dorm" league are Davis of Park Hall since transferred to another school, 36 points, and Dworkin of the Parkwoods, 28 points. Campbell (DEB) and Boros (KBR) are running one-two for "frat" league scoring honors with 37 and 32 points respectively.

Park Hall and Waldemere are also dominating the "dorm" bowling circuit, the two houses currently standing one-two. Beta Alpha is turning the fraternity bowling race into a rout as they lead the second-place club by 3½ games. The only apparent fight is between ADO, SPA, and KBR for the Number 2 post.

Beta Alpha gained their large first-place margin when they shut-out ADO, 3-0, in last week's match. However, while the final result was one-sided, the games themselves were very close, BA winning the trio of contests by one, 30, and two pins respectively.

Rumors had it that Student Council prexy John Cox saved UB from possible legal entanglements recently by going straight to the top when a dormitory co-ed was refused entrance to the dining hall because she had disobeyed a few cafe rules.

Unknown to the college officials who reconsidered the girl's punishment at the personal request of President James Halsey, a New York lawyer was at the same time studying the situation on behalf of his daughter, who phoned him long distance to inquire if the University had any legal right to expell her friend from the dining hall.

Ben Bernstein is back at UB after spending three months in England where he expected to do a little studying. Things didn't pan out as intended, so —back to UB.

From one of our readers: "Would you ask the powers-that-be to equip the Stables door with a gadget which would automatically close it after those forgetful scroungers enter?"

To one of our readers: You ask them—I'm tired.

Dr. Tillett, dean of the College of Business Administration will have a new office in Simonds House to move into when he returns from sick leave about March 1.

Sneak previews of the Office of Campus Production's latest endeavor indicate that Nancy Fray is going to make a wonderful wife for old man Craig and his friends.

If the girl's basketball team were given more support by the student body an excellent tradition might easily be established. The girls are a scrappy bunch and it's interesting, Scribe Scouts tell us, to see them engage in the sport.

Friday, March 11, has been set as the date for the second annual all-university dinner . . . Last man to register for the spring semester was 31-year-old Art Monroe from Bethel. Official tally records indicated that he was number ??? in line.

A miniature Mardi Gras will be held Friday, March 25, by the Newman Club at the Sacred Heart Clubrooms. Terry Brannelly and Lenny Lampugnale, who are handling the arrangements, have invited all club members and their friends to attend.

Tom Noyes, Park Hall, had his 1939 green Plymouth coach stolen from in front of the Fairfield Avenue Administration Building Monday, Feb. 7. It was taken between 7 and 10 p.m. No sign yet of its return.

Some Student Council members predict that school spirit will be upped nearly 100 percent if students vote in favor of the student activity coupon book come the referendum in March for that purpose.

Many male students are sweating out the draft and every time the hit tune "Far Away Places" is heard in the Stables you can see tears in their eyes.

Dotty Ellam of the Admissions Office got a wonderful surprise while opening her office mail during the mid-year vacation. On a Sweetheart Nomination Card that was re-addressed to the Admissions Office, a secret lover had nominated "Dotty Ellam" for "Campus Sweetheart".

Councilman Marty Ryan, freshman class, is advocating a UB Athletic Association which he says might be just the thing that's needed to foster student support of athletics here at the University.

Jr. College Team Wins Five Straight Games

The Junior College team of the University of Bridgeport is currently leader of the Connecticut Junior College league with a perfect record of five wins in as many starts.

As defending champions of the league title, the freshmen and sophomores have trounced all competition so far this season. Among the victims are New London Junior College, St. Thomas Seminary and New Haven Junior College of Commerce.

Fred Basquin, who also plays on the varsity team, has accumulated 49 points in four games to lead his team with the highest total. Promising center, rangy Lew Elias made the highest total per game when he netted 21 points against New Haven Junior College of Commerce.

Other team scoring totals are:

	G	F	Ttl.
Basquin	20	9	49
Doca	15	9	39
Kozulko	15	7	37
Elias	10	2	22
Moran	8	3	19
Dietrich	8	1	17
Giannini	4	0	9
Campbell	4	0	8
